

FAIR TODAY; PROBABLY
SHOWERS TOMORROW

Norwich

NORWICH, CONN., MONDAY, SEPT. 26, 1921

Bulletin

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin

Norwich, Monday, Sept. 26, 1921

WEATHER Conditions

Air pressure was high Sunday night over the Canadian maritime provinces, and low over the St. Lawrence valley.

There have been general showers within the last 24 hours east of the Mississippi river.

The temperature has risen in the middle Atlantic coast.

In the New England states the weather will be fair and cooler Monday and fair with moderate temperature on Tuesday.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast at and north of the Delaware breakwater.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook—Fresh west and clearing weather Monday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Moderate to fresh northwest becoming variable clearing Monday.

Forecast

New England—Fair and cooler Monday; Tuesday fair.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Saturday and Sunday.

Ther. Bar.

Saturday
7 a. m. 59 29.90
10 a. m. 60 29.90
1 p. m. 61 29.90
4 p. m. 62 29.90
Highest 70, lowest 59.

Sunday
7 a. m. 59 29.90
10 a. m. 60 29.90
1 p. m. 61 29.90
4 p. m. 62 29.90
Highest 68, lowest 59.

Comparisons

Predictions for Saturday—Fair.

Predictions for Sunday—Unsettled, probably showers.

Sunday's weather—Cloudy with light showers in evening.

R. N. MOON AND TIDES

	Sun	High	Low
Rises	5:59	11:41	5:59
Sets	5:59	11:41	5:59
Water	5:59	11:41	5:59
Standard Time	5:59	11:41	5:59

Six hours after high water is low water, which is followed by high tide.

TAFTVILLE

At the residence of the Taftville Congregational church, Saturday, Rev. Arthur Varney, minister, married Miss Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gagnon and Kurt Seifert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Seifert, Sr., of Occum.

The bride was attended by Miss Louise Hermann, a personal friend of the bride. Harry Jervis was the best man.

The bride and her maid were becomingly gowned in tailor made suits of the latest design, with hats to match. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and a gold watch chain and to her maid a gold pendant.

The groom's gift to his bride was a chest of silver and to his best man gold cuff links. The bride gave the groom a gold watch chain and to her maid a gold pendant.

A wedding reception was held at the bride's home on Highland street, with a few relatives and intimate friends attending.

Late in the evening, the happy couple left on a tour of two weeks duration, which will include Portland, Me., and Boston, Mass.

The bride received many useful gifts including silver, glass, linen, furniture and monies.

Mr. and Mrs. Seifert on their return will reside in their newly furnished home on 196 Chestnut street, Norwich.

The local band gave a concert yesterday afternoon, on the Maennerchor grounds.

The Social and Football members are to organize a team at a meeting tonight.

Y. M. C. A. Sunday Meeting.

The group of men who gathered at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon there enjoyed the meeting, which opened with singing, and after the benediction reading and prayer the topic, "Is Repentance a Help or a Hindrance?" was discussed freely by the men.

Several helpful points were brought out among which were the following: Some of the men have been heretofore weaklings, but all of these have been overcome, and those who have overcome, they have been the stronger, therefore proving that such opposition can be made a help instead of a hindrance.

Many men have failed in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

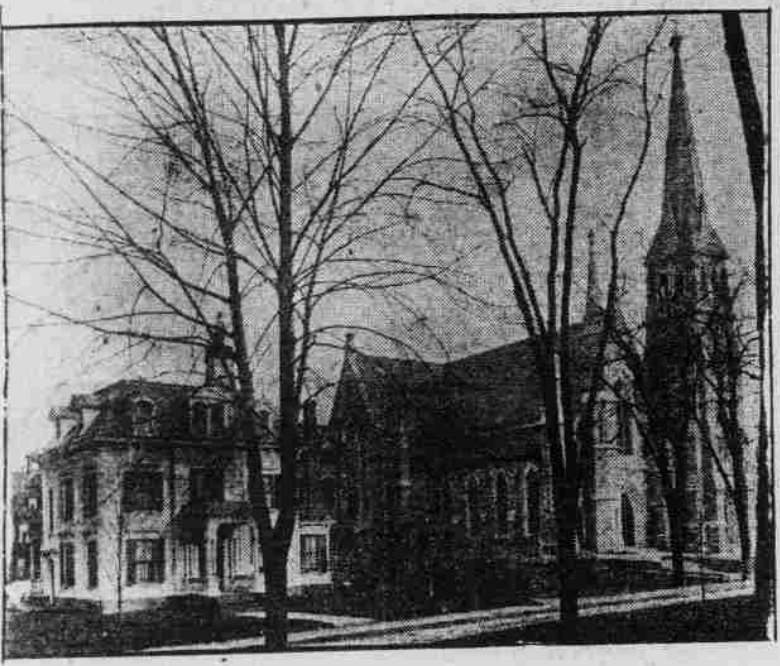

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

Some of the men have been in business, and have afterwards become successful; others we find that friends we trusted prove untrue, and we feel the loss of friends is not outrageous, because we have learned to depend upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us, upon the friend that is with us.

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH AND RECTORY

OBSERVE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF CONSECRATION OF ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

Saturday was the tenth anniversary of the consecration of St. Patrick's church property, the church edifice, school, rectory, convent, two cemeteries, et al. having been offered to the service of God entirely unencumbered with debt, Sept. 24th, 1911, sparking the date, solemn services were held in the magnificent church and these were recalled Sunday, when at each of the three regular masses of the day an historical sermon was delivered by one of the assistant pastors, Rev. Philip J. Mooney.

At 10:30 there was a solemn high mass of thanksgiving, in which Rev. Mooney, D. J. Kelly, then Rev. Peter Kelly, who purchased two lots as a church site on Church street, but these were later deemed unsuitable. Finally in June, 1885, Rev. Daniel Mullin, who had been a Civil War chaplain was appointed pastor, purchased the site of the present St. Patrick's church and erected the church edifice. The corner stone was laid July 13, 1873, the collection at that ceremony amounting to $19,000.

Following Father Mullin's death, Rev. P. J. Shahan was pastor, the first mass being celebrated in the completed church in 1878. Rev. Peter M. Kennedy, the succeeding pastor, aided in the consecration ceremony was celebrated by Bishop Thomas K. Heenan, nephew of the first pastor, Rev. Daniel Kelly; the preacher was Rev. Louis P. Walsh, of Portland, Me.

Father Mooney spoke of the wonderful architectural merits of the church which is 210 x 100 feet, its interior Gothic arches 70 feet from the floor. He explained the significance of the ceremonies when Bishop Nolan consecrated the church to the service of God forever—it can never be used for any other purpose.

A tribute was paid to the sacrifices of these pioneers of strong faith who erected the splendid temple. In his personal consecration of the church, the grand church standing on through the future, in a prosperity without change or shadow of changing, a temple to the Almighty from which will go out endless lines of infants marked with the sign of Christ in baptism, children confirmed as valiant as soldiers of Christ, boys of St. Patrick's serving as priests at the altars, girls of the parish going forth as holy nuns to live in prayer and service, parishioners in other walks of life carrying out into the world the influence of the faith kindled at St. Patrick's altars; finally the endless line of coffins in which those who had served the church should be borne at last to God's Acre—for that new birth, which, after all, is what death is.

A large congregation, including many strangers, heard the eloquent sermon. About the walls of the auditorium were lighted during the day the candles in the consecration scenes, another reminder of the ceremonial of ten years ago. The Sisters of Mercy from the adjacent convent had decorated the altar with flowers for the day. The vestments of the priests were white and gold.

$200 FINES ON ELEVEN

NEW LONDON LIQUOR MEN

In the New London police court Saturday Judge Victor S. Prince placed fines of $200 each against eleven places arrested for sale of liquor during the week. One defendant, George Getchell, took off with $100 fine, one man's case was nolle and in the case of David Doyle's bail was ordered for the defendant's failure to appear. Judge Prince also served notice on the accused that any future appearance by them in his court would result in a full trial.

As a result of the seizure by the prosecuting attorney's office, Prosecutor Daniel M. Cronin stated Saturday that he had been informed that the liquor men had threatened to "get him." He said that he had been informed that they intended to bring political influence to bear to have him ousted from his office. He further added that he accepted sole responsibility for the roundup of the past week and that there was no motive behind the clean-up other than a thorough endeavor to carry out the duties of his office as public prosecutor.

The dealers who signified through their counsel or the police that they were quitting the business were: John Weiden, Daniel, Nutmeg hotel, 1000 street; Frank Danes, 1000 street; Geo. Allenbrook and Edward W. Finn, Green street; James D. Neary, Montauk Inn, Montauk avenue and Edward McGinnis, Bradley street.

CHARGE UNCAVILLE BARBER

WITH THREATS TO KILL

Emile Tillona, a barber of Uncasville, was arrested in New London Saturday and turned over to the Uncasville authorities for threatening to kill Mike Burke as the result of a quarrel between the two. Tillona is alleged to have been armed when taken into custody.

Noank Merchant in Bankruptcy.

C. C. Rossmann of Noank, merchant, who filed a petition in bankruptcy, Sept. 17, gives liabilities at $5,890, and assets $4,550. The creditors are: R. L. Hall, Co., New London, $238; A. Scher & Co., New London, $251; Swift & Co., New London, $250; Berry-Wales Co., Boston, $430; S. N. Ellis Co., New London, $224; Geo. Weinhaus, New Haven, $2,400.

Academy Changes Time.

With the return of the trolley line and the railroad to standard time schedules will be announced Friday at the Academy that the morning hour for opening school will be 9 o'clock instead of 8:30 to 1:30. The change now into effect this (Monday) morning.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL WORKS

FOR MANSFIELD INSTITUTION

Bids were received at the office of Chandler and Palmer, Engineers, last Thursday, for sewage disposal works at the Mansfield State Training School and Hospital.

The present method of disposal has become entirely inadequate for the institution. The new system includes the installation of detention tanks in the vicinity of the buildings, with a main sewer leading down to the Willimantic River about one-half mile distant. Between the railroad and the river will be constructed six filter beds each of 50 x 100 feet with underdrains. The sewage will be discharged onto the beds from a dosing tank by means of an automatic siphon.

The trustees held a meeting Friday afternoon at the institution, at which the plans and specifications were discussed in connection with the bids.

The contract was awarded to Louis Petrossi of Hartford, who was the lowest bidder. The bids received were as follows: Archibald Torrance, $23,666; The Pack-McWilliams Co., $28,557; F. D. Miller, $24,834; P. P. Ahern, $24,583; Louis Petrossi, $22,765.

JEWETT CITY

Thursday evening next, Faith Chapter, No. 32, O. E. S., is to entertain Worthy Grand Matron Hattie M. Stickle of Newington Junction, also several of her associate grand officers. The banquet at 6:30 will precede the business meeting, which will be held in Mason's hall as usual. Initiation and balloting are to take place for the official induction.

The class of 1922 at Riverdale Grammar school elected these officers: President, Ruth Ballou; secretary, Violet Harris; treasurer, Rose Crumb. Miss Alice Smith is very ill, following a nervous breakdown. She was somewhat better at the week-end. Thomas McBroom has purchased the property on Preston Road owned by Carleton Brown, adjacent to the McBroom property.

The New York & New Haven railroad and Mr. Anderson's trolley service didn't seem to jibe when the new fall timetables were issued. When the new schedule was put in operation Sunday morning, it was discovered that at Jewett City southbound trolleys were leaving nine minutes past the hour. The information which the railroad gave to the trolley service was that the southbound trolleys would leave Jewett City nine minutes past the hour. Inquiry disclosed the fact that it was taken for granted that the Connetquot trolley service would leave Jewett City nine minutes past the hour. As a result the trolley service was delayed for nine minutes.

The hundreds of Jewett City people who would visit Norwich in the evening might as well stay at home for they must leave Norwich at 7:45. On the other hand, Norwich people, teachers and office workers, whose business is in Jewett City are benefited by this schedule.

The attendance at the Fall day service of the Norwich Sunday school was one hundred and seventy-four. The very interesting exercises were given by the younger grade. Their exhibitions of Bible knowledge were a source of wonder to the grown-ups. The grade came in for a large share of acclamation and interest. Mrs. Charles T. Armstrong is in charge and invited attention to Chester Green, Virginia Paquette, Elizabeth Willis, Herman Trip, Marie Paquette, Earl E. Gilbert, Edwin Hewitt and Louis and Ruth Gil.

Mrs. M. D. Fuller, the superintendent, and Miss Mabel Frink, the teacher of the primary department, were justly proud of those who received diplomas. Ruth Cathart, William Brewster, Clarence Sweet, Harold and Abbie Lindell, Jessie Millard, Janie Mayer, Arthur Gray, Lois and Gloria G. Rev. M. D. Fuller, accompanied by Mrs. M. D. Brown, sang "The Perfect Life."

The journey of Paul through the Holy Land was most interestingly explained by Mrs. M. A. Clarke's class. The members were given diplomas and were graduated from the junior to the intermediate grade. The members are Ellen Prior, Rose Crumb, Ruth Gray, Arline Tucker, Susan Terry, Minnie Mazer, Minnie Tondak and Mary Corey. Mrs. G. H. Prior's class sang "Jesus, Lord of My Soul" concluding with the selection in the variations on the piano by Miss Vera McDoom.

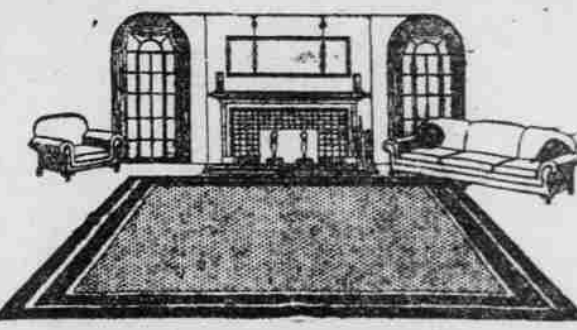

Mrs. M. A. Brown's class members were perfect in their chronological record of the varied experiences of the Children of Israel.

Supt. A. M. Brown warmly commended his able teachers who made such splendid Bible knowledge possible. In speaking to the graduating class he said that he hoped they never would graduate from the service of Christ. He said to the large audience, "The church needs more than your contributions; it needs your active participation."

The first trolley Saturday morning in charge of Pilot Daniel Dutton, collided with one of Joseph Road's fine blooded heifers at the lower Road crossing. The heifer was killed and the animal was killed. The Midway crossing crew was needed to put the car back on the rails.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Fall Opening Days In FLOOR COVERINGS

It is now in progress, to continue all this week, our Annual Fall Opening in Floor Coverings — Rugs, Carpets, Mattings, Linoleum, Oil Cloth, etc. In accordance with our usual custom, we are offering a number of special values for Fall Opening Days. Here are some of the special values:

TAPESTRY RUGS

6x9 feet.....	$12.75—value $16.25
6x9 feet.....	$14.50—value $19.50
7 ft. 6x9 ft.	$15.00—value $20.75
7 ft. 6x9 ft.	$19.75—value $24.00
8 ft. 3x10 ft. 6..	$11.00—value $15.00
8 ft. 3x10 ft. 6..	$21.50—value $26.00
9x12 feet.....	$19.50—value $25.00
9x12 feet.....	$24.00—value $33.00

AXMINSTER RUGS

27x54 inches... $ 4.19—value $ 4.75
36x72 inches... $ 7.00—value $ 8.25
4 ft. 6x6 ft. 6.. $10.75—value $14.50
6x9 feet..... $19.25—value $25.50
7 ft. 6x9..... $24.50—value $33.00
8 ft. 3x10 ft. 6.. $29.75—value $37.50
9x12 feet..... $27.75—value $37.50
9x12 feet..... $32.00—value $41.00

CHINA MATTING

Best quality China Matting, 116 warp, in a good assortment of patterns, regular value 55c — Special price a yard..... 45c

NEPONSET

Neponset, the best of all felt base covering, guaranteed water-proof, regular value $1.00 — Special price a square yard..... 85c

FIBRE MATTING

Reversible Fibre Matting, in a choice selection of patterns, regular value 65c — Special price a yard..... 45c

PRINTED LINOLEUM

Best quality Printed Linoleum, patterns suitable for every room in the home, regular value $1.00 — Special price a square yard..... 85c

Floor Coverings bought during Fall Opening Days will be stored until wanted, upon payment of a reasonable deposit. Measurements will be taken without extra charge. Now is the time to have the measurements taken and select your new floor covering.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

The schedule was off for a couple of hours.

People passing on Route street are stopping to see the display of one-time money in J. T. Wilbur's window. There is a dozen notes on the side bank of Stonington, Conn., in denominations from $1.00 to $50, including a $3 bill. There is also a $10 bill on the Farmers' and Drivers' bank of Indiana.

Among the Stonington hits are three which show a steel engraving of sailors in a boat attacking a whale. Mr. Wilbur has been offered much more than their face value for notes of this sort.

Two boys were at the upper Tadpole bridge, Saturday afternoon, throwing stones at objects in the pond. Suddenly a boat attacking a whale. Mr. Wilbur has been offered much more than their face value for notes of this sort.

Lightning struck the house of Ann J. Sheldon Saturday night, Sept. 17. It went through every room in the house, tore off shingles and clapboards and set fire to paper and shavings in the garage which were extinguished by the family. No members of the family were harmed.

More than thirty entered a corn roast, consisting of roast corn, frank, sausage, cake and root beer, near the residence of Joseph A. Clark Saturday evening, the 17th. The successful affair was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Clark.

Many from this town attended North Stonington Grange fair.

Mrs. George Garyne of St. Harlow, N. Y., and Mrs. Sarah Garyne of New York, N. Y., are guests of George Garyne of this town. George Garyne of St. Harlow, N. Y., has returned home after visiting his brother, George Garyne.

Miss Frieda Goodenough was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening, the 17th. Miss Goodenough leaves today (Monday) to begin a four years' course at Smith college.

Judge S. E. Hordridge, Ray D. Wolridge and Joseph A. Clark have been attending the Springfield fair.

Levi Adams takes the ribbon for producing autumn curiosities, Saturday he dug a good sized potato with a wire grass root running through the center. The potato may be moved along the wire root like a ball on a string.

An Italian laborer had his toes badly smashed Saturday. He was reaching for his coat which was on a truck loaded with sand, when he stepped in front of one wheel. The truck started and the load of several tons passed over his feet. Dr. E. E. Rainville attended the injured man.

Merton Burbee and family and others went to Putnam Sunday, attended the funeral of Mr. Burbee's brother, Ernest Burbee. The body arrived from overseas and is to be buried in the family lot in Grove street cemetery. The young man went into the service from Uncasville and was wounded on the last day of fighting, November 11, 1918, and was killed when a shell struck near the ambulance in which he was being taken back to the lines and which was wrecked by the explosion of the shell. The family were for a long time residents of Jewett City.

LEDYARD

Lightning struck the house of Ann J. Sheldon Saturday night, Sept. 17. It went through every room in the house, tore off shingles and clapboards and set fire to paper and shavings in the garage which were extinguished by the family. No members of the family were harmed.

More than thirty entered a corn roast, consisting of roast corn, frank, sausage, cake and root beer, near the residence of Joseph A. Clark Saturday evening, the 17th. The successful affair was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Clark.

Many from this town attended North Stonington Grange fair.

Mrs. George Garyne of St. Harlow, N. Y., and Mrs. Sarah Garyne of New York, N. Y., are guests of George Garyne of this town. George Garyne of St. Harlow, N. Y., has returned home after visiting his brother, George Garyne.

Miss Frieda Goodenough was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening, the 17th. Miss Goodenough leaves today (Monday) to begin a four years' course at Smith college.

Judge S. E. Hordridge, Ray D. Wolridge and Joseph A. Clark have been attending the Springfield fair.

Levi Adams takes the ribbon for producing autumn curiosities, Saturday he dug a good sized potato with a wire grass root running through the center. The potato may be moved along the wire root like a ball on a string.

An Italian laborer had his toes badly smashed Saturday. He was reaching for his coat which was on a truck loaded with sand, when he stepped in front of one wheel. The truck started and the load of several tons passed over his feet. Dr. E. E. Rainville attended the injured man.

Merton Burbee and family and others went to Putnam Sunday, attended the funeral of Mr. Burbee's brother, Ernest Burbee. The body arrived from overseas and is to be buried in the family lot in Grove street cemetery. The young man went into the service from Uncasville and was wounded on the last day of fighting, November 11, 1918, and was killed when a shell struck near the ambulance in which he was being taken back to the lines and which was wrecked by the explosion of the shell. The family were for a long time residents of Jewett City.

Lightning struck the house of Ann J. Sheldon Saturday night, Sept. 17. It went through every room in the house, tore off shingles and clapboards and set fire to paper and shavings in the garage which were extinguished by the family. No members of the family were harmed.

More than thirty entered a corn roast, consisting of roast corn, frank, sausage, cake and root beer, near the residence of Joseph A. Clark Saturday evening, the 17th. The successful affair was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Clark.

Many from this town attended North Stonington Grange fair.

Mrs. George Garyne of St. Harlow, N. Y., and Mrs. Sarah Garyne of New York, N. Y., are guests of George Garyne of this town. George Garyne of St. Harlow, N. Y., has returned home after visiting his brother, George Garyne.

Miss Frieda Goodenough was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening, the 17th. Miss Goodenough leaves today (Monday) to begin a four years' course at Smith college.

Judge S. E. Hordridge, Ray D. Wolridge and Joseph A. Clark have been attending the Springfield fair.

Levi Adams takes the ribbon for producing autumn curiosities, Saturday he dug a good sized potato with a wire grass root running through the center. The potato may be moved along the wire root like a ball on a string.

An Italian laborer had his toes badly smashed Saturday. He was reaching for his coat which was on a truck loaded with sand, when he stepped in front of one wheel. The truck started and the load of several tons passed over his feet. Dr. E. E. Rainville attended the injured man.

Merton Burbee and family and others went to Putnam Sunday, attended the funeral of Mr. Burbee's brother, Ernest Burbee. The body arrived from overseas and is to be buried in the family lot in Grove street cemetery. The young man went into the service from Uncasville and was wounded on the last day of fighting, November 11, 1918, and was killed when a shell struck near the ambulance in which he was being taken back to the lines and which was wrecked by the explosion of the shell. The family were for a long time residents of Jewett City.

POETRY

The Prinkin' Liddle.
The Hielan' lassie are a' for prinkin' an' pinnin';
The Lowlan' lassie for prinkin' an' pinnin';
My daddie wad chide me, an' so wad my mimmie;
If I wad bring home sic a prinkin' liddle.

—Old Ballad.

Now haud your tongue, ye haverin' cow-ard;
For while I'm young I'll go founched and flogged;
In lusterin' striped like the strings o' a fiddle;
Wi' gowden girdles about my middle.

In your Hielan' glen, when the rain pours steady;
We'll be gay an' glad for a prinkin' liddle;
When the rocks are all bare an' the turf all sodden;
An' the lassies wad in their homespun an' hoddin'.

My affie are stiff wi' patterns o' affie;
I've an ermine hood like the hat o' a millie;
I've chains o' coral like rowanberries;
An' a cramoisie mantle that came frae Paris.

Ye'll be glad for the glint o' its scarlet linin';
When the larks are up an' the sun is shinin';
When the winds are up an' over the heather;
Your heart'll be gay wi' my gowden feather.

When the skies are low an' the earth is frozen;
Ye'll be glad for the liddle ye've chosen;
When the snow, I go prinkin' an' pinnin';
In my wee red slipper, were made for dancin'.